The Lycoming College Institutional Review Board (IRB) approved changes to your IRB application. The research was approved in accordance with 45 CFR 46, the Federal Policy for the Protection of Human subjects, and the College's IRB policies and procedures. Please reference the above-cited IRB application number in any future communications with our office regarding this research.

Recruitment/Consent: For research requiring written informed consent, the IRB-approved informed consent document must be used. The IRB approval expiration date has been placed on the informed consent document. Please keep copies of the consent forms used for this research for three years after the completion of the research.

Continuing Review: If you intend to continue to collect data from human participants or to analyze private, identifiable data collected from human subjects, after the expiration date for this approval (indicated above), you must submit a renewal application to the IRB at least 30 days prior to the expiration date.

Modifications: Any changes to the approved protocol must be approved by the IRB before the change is implemented, except when a change is necessary to eliminate apparent immediate hazards to the participant. If you would like to modify the approved protocol, please submit the original protocol and the modified protocol to your departmental IRB representative.

Unanticipated Problems Involving Risks: You must promptly report any unanticipated problems involving risks to subjects to your 1) departmental IRB representative and 2) to the IRB chair.

Closing study: Please notify the IRB when investigation is complete.

Student Researchers: Unless otherwise requested, this IRB approval document was sent to the supervising faculty member. The faculty member should pass on the approval document or a copy to the student researchers.

Additional Information: Please contact your departmental IRB representative or the secretary for the Provost and Dean of the College at 570-321-4102.
